EXPO CENTRE, NOIDA

> AN INVESTMENT OF RS 90 CRORE HAS BEEN PUT INTO THIS PROJECT

A new 'city' in making

Upasana Pandey

NEW DELHI: If you are a head bouncer and dipping sales figures are giving you nightmares or even a stressed executive who wants to bash up your boss for giving you hell, there's a way out. Have you ever heard of destruction rooms? Well, hear it now.

The International Trade and Exhibition Group is developing Expo City in Noida in a joint venture with Expo Centre Ltd of the UK. Currently under construction, this 'city' will be spread across an area of 200,000 square feet and aims to integrate exhibitions, shopping and recreational facilities under one roof — more like a hybrid form of our Pragati Maidan and India Habitat Centre.

Managing director of ITE Mahesh Sharma says they were keen on developing a venue which is needed with all the latest goodies like Net, videomonitoring, on-market information etc. Delhi does not have enough choice for holding exhibitions and can't boast of a state-of-the-art permanent display mall. Expo City will be operational by the end of this year, says Sharma.

Expo City's first phase will see an Expo Centre, Expo City Mall and an International Business Club, spread across 100,000 square feet. The Expo Centre will provide air-conditioned exhibition facilities across two floors.

Expo City Mall, meanwhile, will cater to shoppers. It will be spread over four floors comprising food courts, retail outlets and display centres.

The International Business Club will be a recreational centre, targeting senior executives, professionals, bureaucrats and other national and international businessmen who can relax and unwind here. The Expo Centre will start by September while the mall and club will be functional by April next year.

To help you wait stress, ITE is also coming up with a deconstructive team (this is where the hit-your-boss dream comes true), where you can vent your anger, say, by hitting a mannequin of breaking mirrors or bottles. Don't be too pleased though. You'll have to pay for the damages. (How about charging it to your boss?)

The second phase of Expo City will see an ExpoTel with boarding and lodging facilities for 120 rooms, restaurants and a team-relieving centre for both international and national visitors.

Expo City will provide facilities like postal services, banks, ATMs, travel agencies, press and VIP lounges, florists, courier services, underground parking facilities and also serve as a wedding hall for marriages etc. To get all this, you have to shell out a membership fee.

ITE will be duplicating these efforts in Hyderabad, Jaipur, Lucknow and Guwahati. Having invested about its 90 crore in this project, the company will be putting in another Rs 500 crore in other cities, says Sharma. "About 40 international shows are held in the country annually. 28 in Delhi itself. This industry has huge potential and if given a professional touch, these events can reach 1,000 annually in a few years."

Although all of this is still on the drawing board, we hope it turns out the way its sponsors want it (especially the destruction room!).
